NAME OF HAWAII IS REMOVED FROM THEATER ON ZONE

A. P. Taylor Wins His Fight Against Objectionable Dances
at San Francisco Exposition

Complete success has crowned the fight which Secretary A. P. Taylor of the Hawaii Promotion Committee has been making against the so-called "Hawaiian Village" at the Panama-Pacific Exposition on Joy zone.

After a long series of letters to J. M. Cummins, executive secretary of the P. F. I. E., and to prominent businessmen in San Francisco, asking them to protest against the continuance of the performance, Mr. Taylor this morning received a letter from Mr. Cummins stating that he had conferred with those in authority and that as a result S. H. Leavitt, the owner of the objectionable concession, had been warned to either withdraw his concession or eliminate all reference to Hawaii. Mr. Cummins' letter runs in part:

"Mr. Leavitt has eliminated all reference to Hawaii in the conduct of his performance and has erased the name 'Hawaiian Theater' from the front of his building. He will do nothing which will reflect discredit upon Hawaii or its inhabitants."

The fight against the "Hawaiian Theater" was started on account of the numerous bad reports which reached Hawaii concerning the nature of the exhibit, and inasmuch as the islands are represented in the $100,000 building at the exposition, the Promotion Committee felt that it was unfair for the good name of the islands to be smirched by a money making concern which was substituting a caricature for the truth. Leavitt's theater contained an upstairs and a downstairs, and after paying a reasonable price to witness the upstairs performance the innocent spectator was informed that the "real thing" in the line of hula dancing was only to be seen in the cellar. The "real thing" was a disgusting exhibition which reflected upon the islands and the inhabitants.

ALOHA ARCH OF GREEN TO GREET GUESTS AT BALL

Armory is Attractively Decorated for Non-Coms. Entertainment Tonight

Masses of greenery, forming a great Aloha arch, makes the chief feature of the decorations which will "front" the crowd attending the reception and dance of the Non-commissioned Officers Club to be given at the National Guard armory tonight. Streamers of yellow and blue cross and recross the wide arch of the hall, and around the edge of the floor numerous potted plants relieve the color scheme.

The committees are working hard to make the first of the series of similar affairs which the guard will give an overwhelming success, for they realize that the remainder of the entertainments will largely depend upon this first one for reputation.

It is the hope of the guard that through these affairs the younger men of the city will become seriously interested in their work, and that enough volunteers will present themselves to raise all of the companies up to the required strength. Attention of all amateur musicians about town is called to the fact that in the guard band they can receive excellent training in band work and in music in general, and they are urged to seriously consider enlistment in this branch.

The guard has not been giving many entertainments of this nature and they trust that a revival of interest will result from the present series. Organizing the series of affairs the following committee has been appointed: Chief Musician Feiereisel, chairman, and Sgt. Ho Yap, Swain, Evans and Corp. Benny.

At the reception which will precede the dance this evening, Col. Samuel Johnson, the adjutant general, will head the receiving line and will be aided by Sergeants Miles, Reeves, Radway, Henshaw, Evans, Godfrey, Lucas, Zerbe, Lowrey, Pinao, Collins, Kaaloh, Feary, Yee Hoy, Amos, Dole, Ho Yap, King, Corporal Lemon and Musician Wescott.

The 1st Infantry band will play several selections during the reception and will continue to play for the dance.

NATIONAL GUARD NOTES

Although they have no rifles, a group of young men from the Pahoa district, Hawaii, who want to form a militia company, have made wooden guns and are reported to be drilling with them, reporting regularly for duty in the late afternoon and evening.

At the present time the company at Waikanae Mill, Hawaii, only lacks 14 men of having the requisite number for mustering in under National Guard rules. A petition has been filed with Col. Samuel Johnson, the adjutant general, asking that a company be organized there. The additional 14 men are expected to be secured within a week or ten days.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her residence, 233 Kukini street, died Mary Arcia, the wife of James L. Arcia of the local customs house. Funeral services were planned for 10 o'clock this afternoon in Silva's undertaking parlors, and interment in the Puna cemetery. Mrs. Arcia was born in Honolulu on March 27, 1879. She was the mother of 10 children, 7 of whom with her husband, survive her.
